Christmas Elf Trail Poem

Line of Poem

Christmas is a coming

A time we all adore

The elves they have arrived

In our little town, Bognor.

The elf lights are a twinkling

The trees are hung with care

The presents they are piling up

Under tree and bed and chair

Clarence and his elf army

Are filled with joy and mirth

They are bringing lots of fun

And little peace on earth.

You'll find them in the town

In every shop and store

In the parks and at the seaside

Of our little town, Bognor.

An elf is such a special soul

Full of mischief and joy

Their favourite thing of everything

Is every girl and boy

How happy we are to see them

After a year that was a bore

They've come to bring some sparkle

To our little town, Bognor

So Clarence and his elf army

Wish you health and love

They BID you a joyful season

And urge you to watch the sky above

For on Christmas Eve the Chief Elf comes

Santa in his sledge and all his chums

He'll use the chimney, not the door

And visit every house in dear Bognor

So, from all the elves and Clarence too

Season's Greetings and good cheer

From Bognor BID and the Carnival too.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year
